To business men, absorbed in their own concerns, and habitually engaged in a tread-mill round of duties, it is sometimes refreshing to extend the circle of thought and observation, and especially interesting is it to practical men, to survey the intricate and curious machinery by which the world is growing wiser, better and wealthier. So intent is the business man of to-day upon the pursuit of his own, that he scarcely knows how the great world is surging on by his side. With these ideas in his mind, the compiler imagined that others might feel to some extent the same interest which he attaches to a faithful daguerreotyping of Old Hillsborough, in her social, physical, educational and moral relations. How successfully it has been accomplished, in much haste, amid other pressing duties, is left with the clemency and just judgment of the public for decision.

August, 1853.

J. R. D.

HILLSBORO' COUNTY RECORD.

OUR COUNTY :—ITS ORIGIN AND PROGRESS.

One hundred years ago the settlements in the territory now known as Hillsborough were scantily peopled, though some of them had been occupied by a few hardy settlers for a considerable length of time, the first grants of land to individuals having been made two centuries since. The old township of Dunstable, comprising the present towns of Nashua, Nashville, Hollis, Hudson, Litchfield, and Merrimack, were settled early ; New Ipswich and Peterborough, one century ago, were attractive settlements ; Bedford and Amherst, known as Souhegan East and Souhegan West, with New Boston, and Society Land, or the Masonian Proprietors' Lands, including Antrim, Hancock, Bennington, Deering, and parts of Francestown and Greenfield, complete the list of the most prominent settlements. The population of this territory was but a moiety of the present numbers.

Its soil is light and sterile, compared with the fertility of other sections of the country ; the southern portion is especially sandy and unproductive, a stinted pine being mainly the original growth; the northern and western portions have generally a stronger and deeper soil, of sandy loam, or clay, yielding with assiduous labor good crops of corn, potatoes, and most of the cereal grains. The north of the County is particularly adapted to the growth of wheat, and the south to the culture of rye. Much attention has recently been given, in the vicinity of large towns, to the cultivation of garden vegetables and fruit, and the production of milk, which is already proving a source of much profit. The notion that the fruit market may be easily glutted is wearing away, as people are just beginning to discover its value and indispensable necessity as an article of food, and to learn that its present demand is but a tithe of what it will be when its price shall be a trifle lower.

Its rock is principally granite, of various textures and qualities, some of it superior for building purposes. Its growth is various, consisting of several kinds of pine, oak and birch, with hemlock, spruce, maple, beech, chestnut, cedar, walnut, elm, ash, and a number of other less common kinds.

Whatever poverty of soil Hillsborough may possess, scarcely a County in the union can be richer in natural manufacturing resources. The Merrimack, at Manchester alone, affords facilities scarcely inferior to those at Lowell, while at Goff's Falls and other places are unoccupied privileges of more or less value. The Nashua runs 50,000 cotton spindles, with much other machinery. The Souhegan, flowing from the south-western border through the centre of the County, has valuable privileges at almost every mile. The Contoocook turns many a mill in Peterborough, as well as in manufacturing villages in Merrimack County. The Piscataquog, rising in the centre of the County, makes itself useful in all its course through New Boston, Goffstown and Bedford. Numerous tributaries of these main streams, everywhere leaping from the hills, turn hundreds of wheels, and add to the general prosperity. There were in the County, in 1850, 379 manufacturing establishments producing more than $500 each yearly. The value of factories and machinery was $3,680,275 ; of mills and carding machines, $159,436. The importance of manufactures may be gleaned from the fact that the population has increased more than 33 per cent. in the last ten years, mainly through manufacturing ; and the value of landed estate in equal proportion.

It may be interesting to note a few of the general statistics of valuation, based upon the official returns of 1852. The value of land is $12,500,599, equal to the government price of 10,000,471 acres of wild land, or 15,625 square miles, or a territory nearly twice as large as the whole State ; the value of horses, $352,144, 6,254 in number, averaging $56.46 each ; neat stock, $715,413, 31,507 in number, averaging $22 71 ; sheep, $37,042, 18,123 in number, averaging $2 04 ; carriages, $37,700 ; corporation stocks, $704,668 ; money taxed, $993,226 ; stock in trade, $1,342,068 ; locks and canals, $203,- 900 ; total of inventories exclusive of railroads, $23,709,611 ; railroad property, $1,582,509. Were this equally divided, each man, woman and child in the County would be taxed for $435—probably fully equal to the average for the whole United States.

This County can boast many names distinguished in their country's history, names that have adorned the halls of State and shed glory upon the field,—such as Gen. Stark, the hero of Bennington—Gen. Miller, whose "I'll try, sir," is immortal—the valiant Mc'Neil—Matthew Thornton, a signer of the Great Declaration—Franklin Pierce, our popular President, with many others that might be named.

EDUCATION.

Within the past ten years much has been done for the advancement of popular education in the County. A healthier public sentiment and a better appreciation of the best means of improvement are now in existence ; better teachers are employed and better pay given ; school houses have been improved, and High Schools instituted. A High School house has just been finished in Nashua, in a rich style of architecture, and in an admirable location, which will be inferior, in no respect, to any school house in the State. Its cost is about $13,000. A good High School is in progress in Manchester, another in Nashville ; and Amherst is about to institute another. Also, Milford and Pelham.

There are many good Academies and Select Schools, which will be noticed under another head. Prominent among these, in value of instruction and extent of patronage, are the Merrimack Normal Institute, the New Ipswich Appleton Academy, the Appleton Academy at Mont Vernon, and the Frankestown Academy.

Doubtless much is owed, likewise, to the Hillsborough County Teacher's Institute, formerly sustained by a distinct organization, but now managed by the County School Commissioner. The office of School Commissioner, when intrusted to suitable hands, is a valuable auxiliary in the work of true educational progress. The present Commissioner is Rev. Solomon Laws, a gentleman well qualified to advance the interests of education.

The report of the Board of Education for 1853 shows a general increase in the wages paid to teachers, and a larger proportion of female teachers employed. During the past year eight school-houses were built in the County. In the schools of last winter were nearly as many female teachers as males—182 females, 185 males. In the summer schools were only eight male teachers. Bedford, Frances-town, Goffstown, Hudson, Lyndeborough, Mont Vernon, New Ipswich, New Boston, Weare, and Wilton, have local school funds, Weare the largest, amounting last year to $5021 23. Weare also contributed most in board and fuel. 318 districts reported.

NEWSPAPERS.

Half a century ago was started the first newspaper now in existence in the County,—the Farmer's Cabinet. In the past twenty years, newspapers, a score or more, have been ushered into existence ;
some of them to live, a few to flourish, and others to die. Those now in existence are established with scarcely an exception, on a reliable and permanent basis, and are conducted with a degree of tact and talent comparing favorably with any similar association of country papers in the Union. Two are democratic, two whig, one free soil, and five independent of party control, with one agricultural—eleven in all. There is besides a monthly agricultural publication.

AMERICAN AND MESSENGER, Manchester, Whig. Published by Abbott, Jenks & Co., at $1,00 in advance. This is the largest paper in the County, and is second to none in the ability of its editorials and faultlessness of its typography. J. C. Abbott, editor.

UNION DEMOCRAT, Manchester, Democrat. Published by Campbell & Gilmore, at $1,50 per year. This is the youngest paper in the County, with the largest circulation. It is ably edited by James M. Campbell.

THE DEMOCRAT, Manchester, Free Soil. Published at $1,50, by John H. Goodale. This is a paper that has wielded considerable influence. Its editor is endowed with an indomitable perseverance. Its circulation is scarcely surpassed by any of its competitors.

DAILY MIRROR, Manchester, Independent. Published by John B. Clarke. This is a penny paper, the only daily in the County ; piquant, liberal and intelligent.

The WEEKLY MIRROR is published at the same office ; terms $1,00.

GRANITE FARMER, Manchester, Agricultural. Published by James O. Adams ; terms $1,00 in advance. General editor, James O. Adams ; Agricultural editor, Thos. R. Crosby. This is a valuable publication, designed especially to meet the wants of Hillsboro'

County farmers, whose substantial favor it richly merits.

NASHUA GAZETTE, and Hillsborough County Advertiser, Nashua, Democratic. Published by B. B. & F. P. Whittemore, at $1,50. It is the oldest of our papers, with one exception, established a quarter of a century since. Its present editor, B. B. Whittemore, is a gentlemanly and intelligent member of his profession.

N. H. TELEGRAPH, Nashville, Whig. Published by Albin Beard, at $1,50 per year. This paper enjoys perhaps a wider celebrity than any other in the County. Its editor has a rare appreciation of genuine humor, and a rich fountain of "the milk of human kindness" in his bosom.

NASHUA AND NASHVILLE OASIS, Independent. Published at $1,00, by Dodge & Noyes. It enjoys a good share of patronage, having the largest local circulation.

FARMERS' CABINET, Amherst, Independent. Published at $1,25, by E. D. Boylston. R. & E. D. Boylston, editors. This paper is 51 years of age, and its senior editor 71. Amid all the competition growing up around, the Cabinet not only holds "its own," but probably yields a larger income than at any previous time.

PETERBOROUGH TRANSCRIPT, Independent. Published by E. H. Cheney, at $1,00. A very acceptable local and family paper.

FARMERS' MONTHLY VISITER, Manchester, Agricultural. Published by Rowell, Prescott & Co., at $1,00. Chandler E. Potter, editor. This is an ably managed and interesting publication.

HILLSBOROUGH COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL SOCIETY.

This Society, by means of Monthly Meetings for Discussion, Fairs, and the publication of Essays, Reports, and Records of doings, is awakening a deep interest in the cause of agriculture in this section of the State. The following is a list of the present officers :

President, Brooks Shattuck, Bedford.

Vice Presidents, John M. Tyler, Pelham; Hiram Munroe, Hillsborough; Jonathan Russell, Mason; Chandler E. Potter, Manchester.

Recording Secretary, Moody Hobbs, Pelham.

Corresponding Secretary, A. G. Comings, Mason.

Treasurer, David Stewart, Amherst.

Executive Committee,—P. M. Rossiter, Milford, (Chairman); T. G. Holbrook, Bedford; Benj. Priest, Hillsboro'; J. G. Morse, Frankestown; Abram Brigham, Manchester; Chas. H. Holt, Lyndeboro'; Solomon Dodge, Jr., New Boston; David Whiting, Wilton; B. F. Cutter, Pelham; Wm. Reed, Litchfield; J. G. Chase, Deering; John Plummer, Goffstown; Herley Dodge, Amherst; Eli Hamblett, Hudson; W. P. Sanderson, Hollis; Charles Gates, Antrim; Peter Peavey, Greenfield; *Samuel McConibe, Merrimack; David Roby, Nashville; Elliot Whitford, Nashua; Kendall Gray, Hancock; E. F. Gove, Weare; Benj. Clark, New Ipswich; Samuel Adams, Peterborough; Silas Sawyer, Sharon; Isaac Kimball, Temple; N. H. Shattuck, Brookline; John Bruce, Mont Vernon; John Dodge, Bennington.

The most successful County Fairs ever held in the State have resulted from the management of this Society.

*Deceased.

NOTES OF TOWNS.

AMHERST.

This is a highly respectable old town, the shire-town of the County. It was formerly twelve miles square ; in 1794 Milford was taken from it, and Mont Vernon in 1803. In the northern, southern, and western portions of the town the soil is very good. Its inhabitants are mostly engaged in the cultivation of the soil. Amherst sent 140 men to fight the battles of the Revolution ; three fell at the battle of Bunker Hill. In the northern part of the town is a valuable bed of limestone for agricultural purposes ; there is also a superior granite quarry on the town farm.

Statistics.—Population 1613, number of houses 319, number of families 328, number of farms 137 ; value of lands $214,028, stock in trade $11,902, inventory $549,728.

BEDFORD.

This town was incorporated in 1750, and originally called Souhegan East. Nearly one hundred soldiers were in the revolutionary struggle from this town. Bedford contains about 20,000 acres, the western portion a hard but warm and rather productive soil, the eastern a rich intervalle of the Merrimack, the southern clayey, the source of much of the brick of which Nashua and Lowell are built. The base of the Uncanoonucks touches its western border, and the Merrimack laves its eastern, while the Piscataquog meanders through the town, furnishing a few good water privileges.

HANCOCK.

The soil of Hancock is various ; sandy, clayey, rocky in the north and west, with fine meadows along its eastern boundary, the Contoocook. It is a good grazing town, and abounds in excellent water. It bears little of the impress of change, in customs or opinions. A quarter of a century has passed here without a law suit ; the postmaster has not been removed since his appointment, 41 years ago, though a member of a political minority. The Congregational Society has had but three ministers. Rev. Reed Page, settled in 1791 ; Rev. Archibald Bursess, in 1822 ; Rev. Asahel Bigelow in 1859.

Statistics.—Population 1012, houses 212, families 226, farms 35 ; value of lands $241,660, stock in trade $5,439, inventory $387,130.

HILLSBOROUGH.

Hillsborough is about the roughest township in the County, with rocks that verify the strongest stories told of this species of New Hampshire hardware. The Contoocook and North Branch furnish several valuable water privileges. This is the native place and family residence of FRANKLIN PIERCE, President of the United States. The old farm house of the place of his nativity, is situated on the old Turnpike, leading from Francestown through Hillsborough Upper Village, near the crossing of the North Branch road, about a mile and a half from Hillsborough Bridge, the terminus of the Contoocook Valley Railroad.

Statistics.—Population 1685, houses 363, families 320, farms 200; value of lands $351,443, stock in trade $9,075, factories $3,200, inventory $561,163.

MANCHESTER.

The first city in the Granite State, the largest in population, the most effective in productive industry, as well as the youngest of them all, is Manchester, the most extensive depot of the cotton manufacture in the New World, excepting only Lowell. Its population, now about 17,000, has grown up in about as many years. Once a locality of miserable sterility, its real estate is now valued at millions. It is bounded about 9 miles by the Merrimack River, which in a distance of one mile furnishes a fall of 54 feet, yielding water power sufficient to run several hundred thousand spindles. The eastern portion of the city is built almost exclusively of brick, while the western abounds in wooden structures, many of which are elegant and tasteful residences.

At Moor's Falls is a small settlement, with a grist, saw and other mills, owned mostly by the Moors.

Statistics.—Population (1850) 13,933, houses 1,787, families 1953, farms 133; value of lands $2,601,266, stock in trade $510,990, factories $2,544,100, locks and canals, $191,000, shares in corporations $139,978, inventory $6,795,682.

MASON.

The soil in this town is mostly a sandy loam. The Souhegan, running through it, furnishes excellent water power. This place is the present terminus of the Peterborough & Shirley Railroad. The railroad bridge near the terminus is one of the greatest works of art in New Hampshire, spanning a weary distance from bluff to bluff, high above the swift waters of the Souhegan.

MILFORD.

This town situated on the Souhegan River, with a productive soil and good water power, has recently grown into considerable importance ; and is especially noted for the sobriety, industry and thrift of its inhabitants, being probably the freest of any town in the County from the influence of intoxicating liquors. From this cause its prosperity may in a great measure be attributed. No rum shop in the place.

Statistics.—Population 2159, houses 400, families 439, farms 120 ; value of lands $493,365, stock in trade $46,750, factories $67,500, inventory $884,960.

NASHUA.

This town, called Dunstable till 1836, originally embraced a large territory. The present town of Nashua belonged to Massachusetts, till the division line was settled in 1741. Its soil is mostly light and sterile, and of little intrinsic value ; its wealth is derived almost wholly from extensive manufactures of various kinds, all of which have grown up in the past thirty years. No town in the State has a more varied range of manufactures, or is benefitted by a more productive industry. The power employed is both water and steam ; the Nashua Manufacturing Company's Mills, being operated by the water of the Nashua, which has a fall of 36 feet in about two miles. It is one of the pleasantest manufacturing villages in New England.

Statistics.—Population 722, houses 144, families 152, farms 67 ; value of lands $167,026, stock in trade $7,200, factories $200, inventory $255,256.

[NOTE.—An ugly error occurred in page 71. The statistics of the several towns are accurately corrected on a separate sheet, and may be relied on as perfect transcripts of official census and valuation returns. It will be seen that the statistics of Mont Vernon, (by a hasty transposition) were omitted in the notice of that town, and transferred to Nashua, the next town in order. Below we give the proper statistics of Nashua :

Statistics.—Population 5820, houses 950, families 1058, farms 67 ; value of lands 226,421, stock in trade $244,978, factories $627,800, corporation shares $108,725, inventory $2,427,048.]

NASHVILLE.

This town, situated mostly on the north side of the Nashua river, was set off from Nashua in 1842. It possesses a light soil, easily cultivated and susceptible of being made quite productive. The village abounds in eligible building spots, and contains many well situated and tasteful residences. The interests of this town are so interwoven with those of Nashua, that separate notices are almost impracticable. The Charitable Orders we have located in Nashua, because the halls are there. The Union Athenæum we have noted there, because its book depository is there, and most of its stock owned there. The Gas Light Company is managed in Nashua ; but the Pennichuck Water Co., we place in Nashville, though a large share of the stock is held in Nashua, as it owes its origin to the "Nashville Aqueduct Co."

Statistics.—Population 3122, houses 499, families 535, farms 40 ; factories $206,200, corporation shares $54,000, inventory $1,381,768.

JACKSON CO.

Horace T. Robbins, Agent. R. W. Lane, Clerk. Incorporated in 1830. Mill No. 1 has 6,656 spindles and 206 looms and manufactures No. 14 sheetings, 37 and 46 inches wide ; No. 2 is also employed in the manufacture of sheetings, and 30 in. shirtings, and runs 5,888 spindles and 188 looms. There are 37 tenements for boarding purposes, for the agent and the clerk. The Company has an ample saw and grist mill, connected with their dam, rented by Roby, M'Questen & Co.

The number of operatives at present employed is not far from 440, of whom all but about 90 are females. This company uses 4000 bales of cotton yearly, averaging something over 400 pounds each, and making an aggregate of about 1,650,000 lbs. of which are manufactured 5,000,000 yards of cloth.

PENNICHUCK WATER WORKS.

Incorporated 1853. Capital, $100,000. This company, just organized, propose to supply Nashua and Nashville with water from the Pennichuck Brook, through a reservoir on the Hill north of the village.

NEW IPSWICH.

New Ipswich was early settled, and has always been noted for the industry, enterprise, intelligence and refinement of its people. This town sent sixty-five men to Bunker Hill. The soil is a clayey loam, quite productive compared with some portions of the County. The water is good, and water privileges are abundant and valuable, supplied mostly by the Souhegan. A cotton factory was put in operation here in 1803, probably the first in the State.

NEW BOSTON.

New Boston possesses a strong and fertile soil, on which now stands few of the forest monarchs whose stalwart limbs have wrought out much of her productive wealth. The scenery of New Boston is varied and picturesque, partaking largely of the Alpine character, with rocks piled on rocks and hills on hills. There are two villages, the lower and principal of which lies snugly embowered in a deep and narrow valley, through which the noisy Piscataqua winds its way. Overlooking it, stands the respectable and matronly original, on a level and grassy niche in the steep hill side, from which a tall spire shoots sky-ward.

Statistics.—Population 1476, houses 278, families 290, farms 243 ; value of lands $379,975, stock in trade $18,387, inventory $561,656.

Prominent among its advantages, is the simplicity of its construction, and the ease with which it is taken down. The proprietors offer to show that it can be taken apart and put together again in sixty seconds. The rails are fastened to the posts by cast iron clamps screwed upon each, (altogether unlike the Putnam or any other bedstead,) which so interlock each other that a metal key dropped between them effectually confines the posts and rails. The canvas that covers the springs is buttoned upon the side rails, and can be easily taken off.

It is the most portable thing out. The ordinary bed either doubles not at all or only once; the springs of this can be doubled to occupy a space six-inches deep by a foot in width.

As a bed it is improved. The springs are slightly elevated at the head, and are otherwise adapted to sustain equally and comfortably the weight of weary sleepers. Its elasticity is unsurpassed.

Orders received at their Shop in Nashville, -

No bed of their invention allowed to be manufactured without the names of the proprietors, 'MERRILL & TUPPER,' stamped upon it.

MUSICAL INSTRUCTION,

PIANO AND ORGAN PLAYING, HARMONY, THOROUGH BASE, AND VOCAL MUSIC.

E. T. BALDWIN,

Having returned to Manchester, to make it his permanent residence, respectfully announces to the citizens of said place and vicinity, that he has taken rooms in the

MERRIMACK BUILDING,

Where he will give instruction in the above accomplishments. He would also state, that for the past few years, he has spared neither expense nor pains in his efforts to obtain a correct knowledge of the principles of Music, and of TEACHING, and hopes to afford satisfaction to those who may favor him with their patronage.

Applications to be made at Wm. Young's Bookstore, or at C. Baldwin's, 21 Stark Street.

N. B.—Mr. B. having established himself as a Teacher in Manchester, has made arrangements with dealers in, and manufacturers of Pianos in Boston, thereby enabling him to keep on hand, and to furnish all who may wish Pianos of the first quality, (as he intends keeping none else) as cheap as can be bought in Boston, thus saving the trouble and expense of a tour to the city. Pianos which he offers for sale he will warrant for one year, and if within, or at the expiration of that time, they fail in giving satisfaction, or are not all they were recommended to be, they can be exchanged or the money refunded.
